

DocuFire Internet Fax Service

DocuFire Internet Fax is an online fax service that is fully integrated with the DocuFire for Windows platform. Faxes are sent via the Internet and intelligently synchronized with DocuFire Outbox and Sent items.

The DocuFire Internet Fax Service eliminates the need for fax hardware modems, phone lines, dialing rules and all the technical IT support required to keep an in-house communication system up and running.

Email is great for some things, but for reliable business correspondence there are many limitations. Some of the advantages of fax vs. email include;

- Email messages just don't arrive sometimes and with no explanation!
- SPAM filters frequently detect false positives and block email inadvertently.
- Email addresses changes requiring ongoing address book maintenance.
- Vacation and out-of-office bounces must be constantly attended to.
- Black holes happen when email addresses are no longer attended.
- Faxes often require less handling by your customers and vendors.
- Faxes provide proof of delivery guaranteeing your documents arrived.

Our high capacity service can process 800 faxes per hour enabling even the biggest campaign to get out on time!
